Q:Lead Time

A:Quantity Available, It means that it is in stock and can be shipped at any time. At the same time, our trade requires routine inspection by the US government before it can be shipped

LT : 7-21 business days,mainly depends on the progress of the government's review.we hope this is a fast process. The item needs to comply with U.S. import and export regulations.we will submit the PI agreement to the US government for routine review. And due to peak order volumes combined with ensuring the health and safety of our team members due to COVID-19. This is just an estimate, usually it arrives early.

If the government approves quickly, it can be shipped within 7 days.

All orders, we don't provide pictures. Because many traders fraudulently use our labels to disrupt the market. We are all real inventory information. You can verify our authorized dealer status by the manufacturer.

On the NXP official website, search for "Digi-Key" to determine our legal authorized dealer status.

If you have any other purchase list, you can also send it to me,

I will apply for the preferential price for you.

Note: It is not allowed to falsely report and exaggerate the order quantity during the communication process. After applying for the preferential price, only purchase the very small amount quantity in the end. Our quotation is a preferential policy for one-time purchase, and multiple cumulative purchases and cooperative purchases are not supported. During the inquiry, we need to know your real purchase quantity. Avoid the illusion of price increase due to changes in the final quantity.

Thank you,
